The code of practice for the installation, commissioning & servicing of central heating systems

Building Regulations and Benchmark Commissioning

The Building Regulations (England & Wales) require that the installation of a heating appliance be notified to the relevant Local Authority Building Control Department. From 1st April 2005 this can be achieved via a Competent Person Self Certification Scheme as an option to notifying the Local Authority directly. Similar arrangements will follow for Scotland and will apply in Northern Ireland from 1st January 06.

CORGI operates a Self Certification Scheme for gas heating appliances.

These arrangements represent a change from the situation whereby compliance with the Building Regulations was accepted if the Benchmark Logbook was completed and this was then left on site with the customer.

With the introduction of a self certification scheme, the Benchmark Logbook is being replaced by a similar document in the form of a commissioning check list and a service interval record is included with all gas appliance manuals. However, the relevant Benchmark Logbook is still being included with all Thermal Storage products and unvented cylinders.

Gledhill fully supports the Benchmark aims to improve the standards of installation and commissioning of central heating systems in the UK and to encourage the regular servicing of all central heating systems to ensure safety and efficiency.

Building Regulations require that the heating installation should comply with the manufacturer's instructions. It is therefore important that the commissioning check list is completed by the competent installer. This check list only applies to installations in dwellings or some related structures.

The Gledhill BoilerMate range is a WBS listed product and complies with the WMA Specification for integrated thermal storage products. The principle was developed in conjunction with British Gas. This product is manufactured under an ISO 9001:2000 Quality System audited by BSI.

Patents Pending

The Gledhill Group's first priority is to give a high quality service to our customers.

Quality is built into every Gledhill product and we hope you get satisfactory service from Gledhill.

If not please let us know.

1.3 CONTROLS

The controls provided work in exactly the same way as the standard appliance.

It is recommended that the Central heating (C.H) rocker is switched to timed and the clock used to set the times that heating is actually required.

It is recommended that the Hot Water rocker is set to constant unless recharging of the appliance during the night will cause noise problems. If this is the case switch the rocker to timed and set the first 'on' time on the clock to switch on at least ½ an hour before the first heating and hot water demand is required each morning.
